

Roundtable Discussion

Men who travel to abuse children: The Issue of Transnational Child Sexual Abuse

We cordially invite you to join Peter Van Dalen (Interpol, Organized & Emerging Crime Directorate) for a Roundtable Discussion on the issue of transnational child sexual abuse.

When: Tuesday, 28 March 2017
1-5.00 pm

Where: Ruby Room - Premier
Meetings London Euston,
1 Duke's Road London
WC1H 9PJ

INVITE ONLY

Men travelling within and across national borders to conduct sexual offences against children is a significant public protection concern. What challenges does each sector face with regard to transnational child sexual abuse? How can these challenges be tackled effectively? We invite you to join a forum for knowledge exchange between different sectors, including police, government, offender management, child protection, cultural studies, and tourism.

Please confirm your attendance by 17 February 2017 by contacting Dr Hannah Merdian at hmerdian@lincoln.ac.uk.
